JACK

takes photos that have a distinctive and dynamic style, with a focus on capturing the personality and energy of the people he captures.

Eight years ago, I stumbled upon my love for photography in college. What started as a means of earning additional income quickly turned into a passion that has taken me all around the world. Since 2015, I have dedicated myself to this craft, and I haven't looked back since.

Throughout my journey, I have had the pleasure of photographing some of the biggest sporting and corporate events across the globe. From LinkedIn to MTV, Visit Orlando to Visit Macon, New York University to Amazon, my camera has taken me on an adventure that I could never have imagined.

I've had the opportunity to work in over a dozen countries and almost every state, each with its own unique beauty and charm. My photography is a reflection of my distinctive and dynamic style, with a focus on capturing the personality and energy of my subjects.
